

Raoul

Raoul

Despiar

Ross Unger

The Man In The Iron Mask

1 $\text{♩} = 110$ 2 2 rit. $\text{♩} = 110$

We were young and my love un- dy- ing you were the one for me there is no de- ny- ing that my love true was stron- ger than the world I thought you loved me thatway too
Just goes to show how much I knew How could I know love was untrue I thought you loved me too when you cried Lo- uise blinded by my love I tried to set things right when it was not I who spent the nights a- lone with you when you were lone- ly how could you

72

let him take your heart I should have known it from the start

79

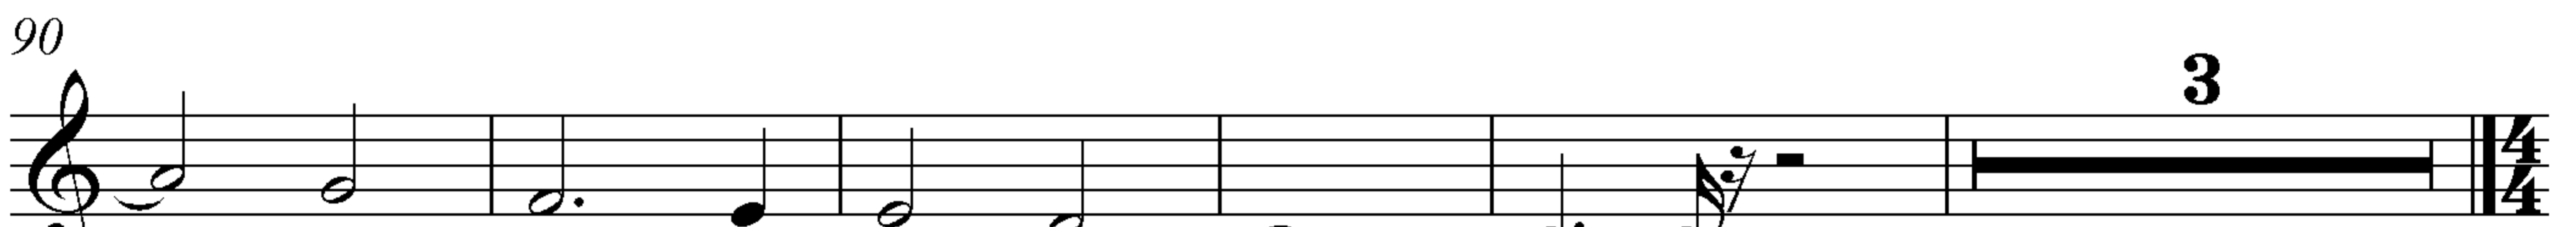

that it's not easy being loved that I was blinded by my heart I should have known it from the start how wonderful life was back

84

90

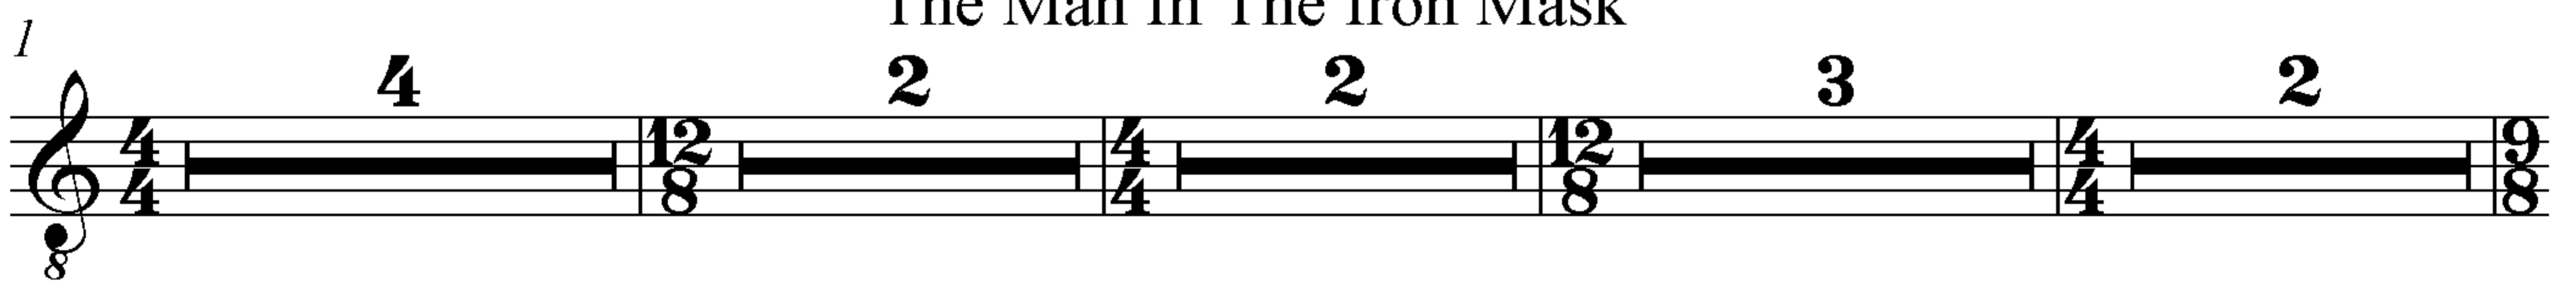

when you were_ mine

King and Nobility

Ross Unger

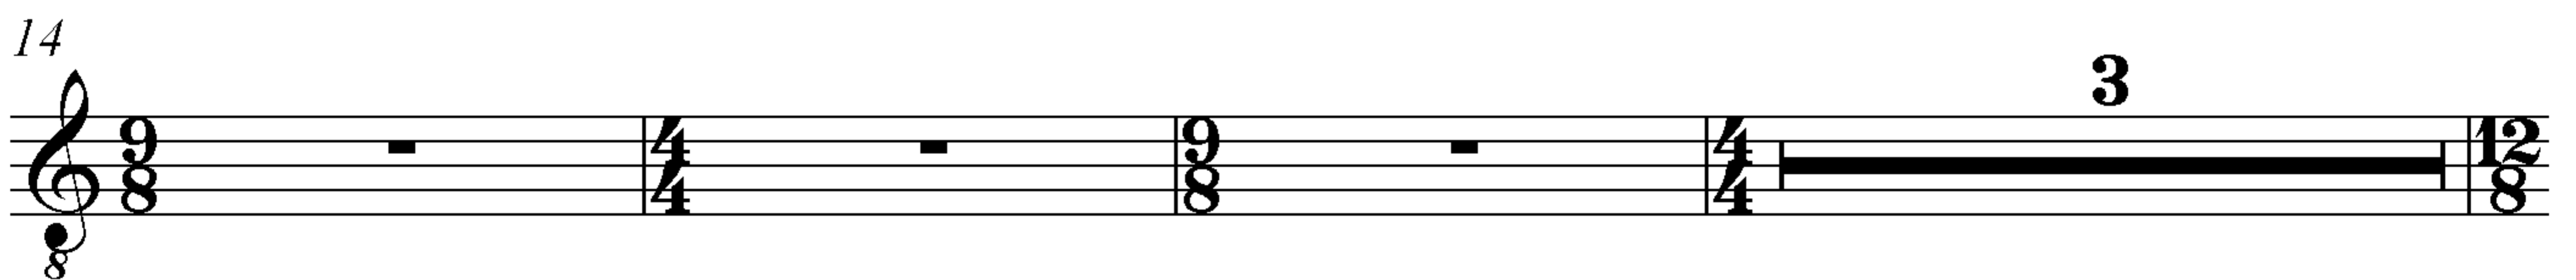

The Man In The Iron Mask

1

4 2 2 3 2

14

3

20

he is a king what can I do he rules the world it's no-thing new

2

24

takes what he wants the rest can die what does he care if I should cry

27

I love her too what does he care?

31

he holds her heart while I de - spair one way or a - no-ther this must end rit.

36

your ma - jes - ty I fall be-fore you hum-bled as I begyou on my knees set my 40

soul free tell me the truth a-boutLou - ise de Val - lie - re

44 $\text{♩} = 132$

4